PART 1: CURRENT SELF-CONCEPT

(Be brutally honest - this is just for you)

I am... (your work + qualities as a person)

People are...

Life is...

My biggest goal in my career is...

My biggest goal for my family is...

PART 2: DESIRED SELF-CONCEPT

(Write as your IDEAL self - the organized, efficient YOU)

I am... (the version who manages time brilliantly)

People are...

Life is...

My biggest goal in my career is...

My biggest goal for my family is...

PART 3: THE GAP ANALYSIS

What's the BIGGEST difference between current and desired?

What ONE belief must I change first?

PART 4: THREE-STEP TRANSFORMATION

STEP 1 - DECISIVENESS:

I commit to practicing these time management techniques until they become habits:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Signature: _____ Date: _____

STEP 2 - VISUALIZATION (Do this daily for 30 seconds):

I see myself as: calm ☐ confident ☐ highly efficient ☐
relaxed ☐ productive ☐ in control ☐

My visualization statement (read daily):

STEP 3 - ACT AS IF:

When facing challenges, I will ask myself:

"How would the ORGANIZED version of me handle this?"

One situation where I'll practice this TODAY:

Read your "Desired Self-Concept" daily for 21 days.
Your brain will start believing it!
